READING

A Zapoznaj się ze zdaniami A-G, a następnie przeczytaj wypowiedzi osób 1-6 na temat obejrzanego filmu. Na podstawie informacji zawartych w tekście zdecyduj, które zdania pasują do poszczególnych wypowiedzi i wpisz odpowiednie litery w kratki. Jedno zdanie podane zostało dodatkowo i nie pasuje do żadnej wypowiedzi. Za to zadanie możesz otrzymać 6 punktów.

This person:

A has seen similar films which they liked better.

B went with a group.

C went to please someone else.

D thought the film would be much better.

E wanted to go to a different film.

F thinks the film was too lengthy.

G thought the film was very exciting.

1

That was an amazing film! The acting was great and the story just kept us on the edge of our seats all the way to the end!

2

Not a bad film, but I've seen much better action films. The special effects were not very good, actually, and they should be with all the technology that is available to film-makers nowadays.

3

Well, I suppose it was a good film, but I'm not a big fan of action movies. I enjoy real-life stories and dramas. I went because I wanted to make my boyfriend happy.

4

That film was fantastic! We loved it ! It's just too bad we couldn't all get seats next to each other, because the cinema was so full. I can understand, though, there were ten of us.

5

We absolutely hated it. We thought this was going to be one of the best films this year but we were very disappointed in the end. We expected too much.

6

I believe that this film was only popular because of the actors. The story was good, but some scenes were just too long for no reason. I would give it three and a half stars.

B Przeczytaj poniższy tekst. Na podstawie informacji zawartych w tekście zdecyduj, które zdania podane w tabeli są zgodne z treścią tekstu /T-true/, a które nie /F-false/. Zaznacz znakiem X odpowiednią rubrykę w tabeli. Za to zadanie możesz otrzymać 6 punktów.

RUMBLE IN THE JUNGLE

The original story of Tarzan was written in 1912 by the American author Edgar Rice Burroughs. He wrote about an English aristocrat called Lord Greystoke who was left in Africa as a baby. He was then raised by a family of apes and learnt the language and habits of animals. Tarzan was first published in 1914 and Burroughs went on to write 25 more books about the jungle hero. Today, his works have sold over 36 million copies and have been translated into over 30 languages.

The Tarzan character has been immortalized in movies, on TV, in a comic strip and even in a radio serial. There have been 47 movie adaptations of Tarzan – only Dracula has inspired more films! People can't get enough of the idea of a noble savage who learns the secrets of the jungle. And as Disney's movie shows, there's still a lot of life in this old tale.

When Disney started work on Tarzan, the directors and the team of artistic supervisors went on an African safari in March 1966. They toured reserves in Kenya, visited the mountain gorillas in Uganda, and saw the Sweetwater Chimp Sanctuary. The teams then got to work in both Paris and California. Daily video-conferencing meant that the two studios, thousands of miles apart, could even work on the same frame at the same time. In this way Disney's Tarzan combines a tale of adventure inspired by nature with the latest technology.

	T	F
1 People first read the original story of Tarzan in 1912.
2 In Burroughs' lifetime, 36 million copies of his books were sold.
3 Not even Dracula has inspired more film adaptations than Tarzan.
4 Tarzan's story is still very exciting to many people.
5 Paris and California teams worked on different parts of the film.
6 Disney's film is modern, but at the same time based on a study of nature.
